South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

South Carolina Code 1976 Title 33 Chapter 33 defines a service animal as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or 3 years in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners

855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info